texidium
by Kivuto®

Institutional Purchase Model

All students.
All resources.
All of the time.

Level the playing field for all students by providing access to digital resources and content anytime, anywhere, on any device.

Institutional Purchase Model

The Texidium solution provides a clear and simple roadmap for large scale, institution-wide adoption of eTexts and digital course materials using the institutional purchase model.

Under an institutional purchase model, the fees for required eTexts and supplemental resources are included with tuition fees. This model ensures all registered students receive access to resources before the first day of classes therefore levelling the playing field for all.

Resource Selection Process	Fees Calculated & posted to ministry	Resource fess included in tuition	Students register in school	Resources available on day 1 or earlier	Level the playing field for all

Benefits for students

Enriching the learning experience for students, by providing 100% access to intuitive, affordable, interactive mobile resources.

- No longer wait for student loans or grants to get supplies; learning resources are available on the first day of class

- Receive a personalized experience as the digital resource portal delivers only the products needed for the assigned courses to each person; no distractions

- Receive a centralized location for all resources for added convenience

- Access content anytime, anywhere

- Adheres to current accessibility guidelines and can be used with NVDA and JAWS screen readers

- Enjoy a mobile friendly eReader platform with responsive design that offers a rich experience on all screen sizes

- Quickly start up at last location with real time syncing for your content, notes and highlights sync across all devices

- Easily find notes, highlights and content across chapters and books with advanced search functionality

- Take advantage of printing functionality for your eTexts as needed

- Get assistance easily through an online help center and live multilingual customer care through toll-free phone or email

Watch eText benefits for students

Benefits for educators

Empowering faculty to leverage the digital assets available in today's teaching environment to enhance engagement and collaboration.

- Enjoy an enhanced learning environment as all students have the same up-to-date resources

- Rest assured that no students is left behind with access to all resources on day one

- No longer waste time waiting for students to acquire their material
  - Assign homework right away
  - Reference and use resources in class, knowing students have the resource on their device

- Easily search, select and choose resources for your class with the book adoption system

- Create a more interactive learning environment for students by sharing instructor and/or student notes and highlights

Watch eText benefits for educators

Benefits for institutions

Providing institutions with a sustainable, innovative, streamlined environment that reflects today's digital reality and improves student retention and success.

- Enjoy a rapid, cost-effective, all-encompassing way to go digital

- Strengthen leadership in the area of educational technology and innovation

- Receive implementation consulting services for driving adoption of eTexts at an institution

- Implement a hybrid model of student purchase and institution purchase model as required

- Address accessibility requirements with a solution that adheres to guidelines

- Reduce or eliminate the need for inventory and shipping

- Stabilize deployment costs and reduce costs of education

- Receive multilingual product support provided to students, faculty, and staff by toll-free phone or email

- Generate accurate budgets and forecasts, based on 100% of students receiving 100% of their resources

Watch eText benefits for institutions

Why Texidium

Developed by Kivuto Solutions in collaboration with Algonquin College, Nelson Education and Pearson, the Texidium Solution is the most reliable, comprehensive, end-to-end eText and digital course material delivery solution on the market today.

We strive to improve student outcomes by centralizing multiple, key components into one digital resource management and delivery platform. Through this platform, students will benefit from the ease of use, reduced resource costs, immediate and ubiquitous access to course material and software, and a collaborative learning experience. Best of all, students can access all of their eTexts anytime, anywhere and on any device.

Contact us to take the next step

texidium
by Kivuto